

Introduction to MCOM

Rocky Vista University selected Billings, Montana as its home for the Montana College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) after an extensive search. Rocky Vista is committed to continue a mission-led focus of providing quality healthcare education while inspiring students to serve with compassion, integrity, and excellence in the region. Billings is the largest city in Montana, situated in beautiful Yellowstone County in the south-central region of the state. A culture of community will be the foundation of the Montana campus.
