

Students as Instructional Faculty

Students with specialized experience, knowledge, or skills may assist Program staff, faculty, and instructors in didactic and laboratory sessions, but students are not permitted to serve as the primary instructor or the instructor of record for any course or component of the curriculum, including, but not limited to, supervised clinical practice experiences.

Students must not substitute or function as an instructor or faculty for the Program.