

MED 3001 : Fundamentals of Clinical Medicine

This course provides information on the policies and procedures that will govern the clinical years: the rights, responsibilities, and duties of the students, faculty, and teaching facilities; the third-year curriculum; and skills needed to enter the clinical arena. The course also includes an introduction to the resources used in clinical education, as well as tools for professional conduct for direct patient care and telehealth venues.

Credits 2

Prerequisites

Successful completion of all pre-clinical (Year 1 and Year 2) coursework.